

Neelam Hundal

Senior Associate

London

Biography

As a senior associate in our Financial Institutions Group, Neelam's experience is focused on commercial, transactional and regulatory advice for retail and commercial banking, payments and consumer finance clients.

Neelam leverages her experience from her secondments to two major retail banks to provide a practical and commercial perspective to a wide variety of clients including banks, retailers, mortgage lenders and payment service providers on regulation applicable to their products, advertising and marketing, business development and operations and commercial contracts.

Neelam has encountered a broad range of issues arising under sector specific regulation including MCOB, CONC, the Consumer Credit Act and the Payment Services Regulations. She also advises on non-sector specific legislation such as unfair terms.

The multi-jurisdictional projects she has worked on also means she is used to working with colleagues in other international offices to carry out reviews for clients who operate, or wish to operate, across multiple borders.

Representative experience

Drafting terms and conditions and other customer facing documentation for UK banks.

Advising a major bank in relation to the migration of a credit card portfolio.
